FEENEY FIGHTS TO HAVE MINE BILL ACTED UPON

No "Steam Rolling" of
His Measure If He
Can Prevent

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS

Harrisburg Busy Place Now
As Legislature Gets Down
To Grind

(Special Correspondence)
Harrisburg, April 13—By being insistent and standing his ground Representative Feeney of Charleroi refused to be "steam rolled" in the House mines committee at Harrisburg Tuesday. Not only did he block delay in the consideration of the mine code, which is generally opposed by the miners but he got one of his mining bills reported out which seemed to be in danger of suffocation.

When Chairman Richards of the mining committee proposed to adjourn the hearing on the code until next Tuesday Feeney objected. This would also delay action on Mr. Feeney's mine certificate bill, and the latter was particularly anxious to get the bill reported out. He was so insistent that the chairman delegated Assemblyman Knight as chairman pro tem to consider the bill, and it was reported out. Had Mr. Feeney consented to be "steam rolled," his bill might have remained buried.

The Sprout road bill with its $6,000,000 appropriation for good roads for the next two years and its measure to fix up about roads all over the state, was passed finally in the Senate and sent to the House.

Great importance is attached to the Shern bill, providing a method for the impeachment of judges, which passed finally in the House by a vote of 112 to 75. There is no doubt but what it will have easy sailing in the Senate. It provides that 100 or more qualified electors of any judicial district in the State may institute impeachment proceedings against any Judge, guilty of "any immoral or dishonest conduct, or who has in any way violated his oath of office or has been guilty of conduct unbecoming a Judge."

William G. Theurer of Washington has been appointed assistant general agent of the state board of charities for the western district, vice Robert W. Herbert, of Greensburg, resigned. Assemblyman Bentley got quick action yesterday on a bill regulating vehicle traffic on public highway. He introduced it in the morning and two hours later it was reported from committee. The bill provides that all vehicles must "keep to the right" in meeting another, and applies to all vehicles or led or driven animals. It also provides that where the width and condition of the streets or highways permit slower moving vehicles shall keep to the right of the center of such street or highway.

The bill likewise compels front and rear lights upon every vehicle upon the public highways during darkness, whether moving or standing, such lights to be visible for at least 100 feet.

Italian Held Up On Way Home

Police Looking For Two Colored Men Whose Descriptions Are Given

The Charleroi police are looking for two colored men, one a small and the other a large man, charged with holding up and robbing an Italian Tuesday night as he was coming from Speers. The Italian concluded to walk from Speers home to Charleroi, rather than wait on a car, and while on his way was held up, and $24 removed from his pockets. He came to Charleroi and notified the police.

MUST HAVE TAX LIST

School Board Wants to Act on Exonerations

WORK IN THE SCHOOLS

At the meeting of the school board in adjourned session last night, the secretary was instructed to notify Tax Collector J. W. Mathias that he must have his exonerations list for 1909 taxes in by May 4, and his exonerations list for 1910 taxes in by June 1. Members of the board discussed different matters in regard to the schools. At the next meeting, which will be on May 4, a superintendent for the following three years is to be elected.

Prof. James G. Pentz, the present incumbent who has held the position for two years will be an applicant for re-election, and the sentiment is said to be in his favor. Prof. Pentz has wrought innovations in the schools that has brought them up to their present high standard and his work has at all times been to the best interests of the schools.

HICKMAN REPLACED IN JAIL WITH DEATH WATCH TO GUARD HIM

Wife Murderer's Freedom of Brief Duration—
Says He Will Not Be Hung
For His Crime

After less than 12 hours of freedom, Charles Hickman, the Beaver county murderer, who escaped yesterday morning for the second time within a few months, was recaptured, and he is now back in the Beaver county jail, with a death watch guarding his door. He repeated his intention after being taken back to the sheriff's office that if possible he would escape again. "At 12 o'clock," he declared, "they will never hang me."

It was the intention of Hickman to go down the Ohio river after hiding some time in a wild section of Beaver county, where he hoped he would be immune from capture. Confusion as to direction, which led him to inquire of County Commissioner Ewing led to his re-incarceration.

This happened as Hickman was passing along the road from Shippingport to Hookstown, and County Commissioner Ewing recognized the man at once and notified County Detective D. C. Braden and Sheriff John Hartzel.

County Detective Braden and Deputy Sheriff Wallover made the capture. They went to Shippingport in company with Sheriff Hartzel and Policeman D. Copeland of Beaver. Braden and Wallover drove in a buggy on the road between the two places and a short distance from town met Hickman walking along. When they approached and he saw who it was he made no resistance.

When taken back to the sheriff's office he told the story of his escape and of how five weeks before he had sawed the bars and had waited for a chance to get away. He made his way through the sheriff's office and the basement of the sheriff's living quarters to freedom.

SPECIAL VISITING DAY OBSERVANCE AT TWO SCHOOLS

Many Persons View Work
Done by Pupils at Buildings No. 2 and 3

Visitors to the Ninth and Second street schools yesterday had the opportunity of witnessing the pupils at work, pursuing the regular school routine. The day was the second of two special visiting days. Only in one grade taught by Mrs. Dolly Jeffries at the Second street school, was there anything but the usual teaching and recitations. In this room there was a literary program rendered by the literary society.

Both the school buildings were highly decorated in seasonable colors, and strung along the walls and blackboards were the displays of work, showing an astonishing degree of skill in the drawing and written work.

It is estimated that about 250 persons registered at both schools. Owing to the bad weather of yesterday the displays and decorations are being left untouched, so that they may be viewed this afternoon by those who did not get to the schools yesterday.

Tomorrow the Charleroi schools will be closed entirely, owing to it being Good Friday.

HOLY THURSDAY BEING OBSERVED

Celebration Throughout the Land in all the Catholic Churches

In the Catholic churches Holy Thursday is being observed today. Members of that denomination visited the "altars of repose," sometimes called the sepulcher, where the consecrated host, placed in the chalice, is kept, while about it stand flowers and burning candles. This evening at 7:30 at St. Jeromes' Catholic church there will be a sermon.

VANDALS AT WORK

Loose Halters of Cows
and Slashes One with Knife

POLICE ARE NOTIFIED

Andy Kolkabage, who conducts a small dairy on the outskirts of the southern part of town, was yesterday made the victim of maliciousness, which resulted in the loss of one of his most valuable cows. During his absence from his dairy barn some one entered the place and severed the halters of all the bovines.

Not satisfied with losing the cows from their stalls, the vandals slashed one of the cows with a knife so that it had to be killed. All were recovered.

Kolkabage was informed by one of his countrymen that for $1 he would tell him who committed the deed. Kolkabage notified the police who told him to hunt up the man and he would be given the dollar. Kolkabage is still searching for him.

Good Roads Coming

The passage of the Sproul road bill through the Senate yesterday is a favorable indication that the measure stands a good chance of success in becoming a law. This act provides for an appropriation of $6,000,000 for the purpose of improving some 300 roads in the State during the next two years, and is a big start pending the proposed measure to amend the constitution for the privilege of issuing $50,000,000 in bonds for a more comprehensive road system.

State aid for road improvement is now a well defined issue, and is encountering little opposition. It has taken the people a long time to realize that State funds cannot be employed to better advantage than in the improvement of the roads, yet the people were strangely indifferent to this matter. Now that a start is made it is not likely to end until the whole State is covered with a network of improved roads which will be maintained at the expense of the Commonwealth. A new era in material advancement is in prospect for the State by reason of road improvement.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

The trouble with most people is that they are too prone to get tired doing good.

With new coal mines starting up there is at least a good indication that business will not be dull the coming summer.

Then man Hickman seems to be the star jail breaker of the United States. Circumstantial evidence has lost many a good man his job.

The special Parents day in the schools was a somewhat classy event.

Some people say they do not care what the Colonel calls them. But that's because they are not close enough to hear.

There is some wonder as to whether Champ Clark will use the same methods for compelling attention and obedience that Uncle Joe did.

According to statistics divorce is increasing nearly three times as rapidly as the population. And that's going some.

Most people living outside of Pittsburgh are willing that that town be used as an experiment for the commission form of government.

With Assemblymen having to pay for feed, board and the like, it's not much wonder that the glory of being Legislator for so long a stretch palls on them.

J. Pierpont Morgan has been suggested for the Presidency of the United States. Not while Ccl. Roosevelt is handy.

The price of tickets to hear one concert by the Metropolitan Opera company at New York has been raised from $5 to 6. They don't any more than get one crimp put in the high cost of living until somebody gives it another boost.

The Spanish town that set up a republic for itself must have heard of the American commission form of government.

Adolph Beigel

Remick and Co. have had as many as six of these songs selling at one time.

This is a remarkable record, but to have one writer furnish four of them seems almost a miracle. Percy Wenrich, one of the youngest song writers, has again demonstrated his ability to strike the popular fancy by his latest, "We've Kept The Golden Rule."

Founded, as it is upon the oldest and greatest principle of moral philosophy, the lyric goes as straight to the hearts of the music-loving multitude as does the tuneful melody. A sentiment similar to that of "Old Gray Bonnet" pervades this song, and young and old will benefit by its moral.

When songs like "We've Kept the Golden Rule," become popular, the world is getting better.

CHORUS.

When we were playmates together, In all sorts of weather, I would whistle for you as we trot along to school. Through the green fields we'd ramble, And watch the lambs at gambol

And we've always kept the Golden Rule.

Executive Controller Samuel C. Todd was in town from Harrisburg a few days this week looking after some private business matters says that Governor John K. Tener, is winning the confidence and esteem of all who are in any way connected in official circles.

"One thing that surprised every one was Mr. Tener's comprehensive grasp of affairs and conditions in all of the departments," said Mr. Todd.

"He has gone right to the bottom of things, and by a series of questions and explanations has familiarized himself with the subject in hand. This was a surprise to the most of the head officials, who have been accustomed to see the different executives depend upon the heads of the various departments for information and action. Governor Tener, however, gets this information himself, and his grasp of affairs in the short time he has been in office has won for him increased respect on the part of officials and subordinates."

HUMOROUS QUIPS

The Crossed Fingers.

He swore that her kiss was the first he had had.
But his fingers were crossed.
He'd kissed but his nether when he was a lad—
Yes, his fingers were crossed.
He vowed that not only he'd never had a taste
Of quivering lips, but that no other waist
Had ever been clasped by his arm. Then,
In haste
His two fingers he crossed.
The sparkler he gave her he'd purchased

But his fingers were crossed.
No previous maiden had worn it—nay,
nay!
But his fingers were crossed.
And never, so long as his life should en-

Would eye, cheek or lip of another maid lure
He knew it—past every doubt he was sure—
But his fingers were crossed.

She listened to all of the guff he had said
While his fingers were crossed.
She laid on his bosom her wise little head

Hoyt's Hospitality.

It was the habit of Charles R. Hoyt, the dramatist, to invite almost everybody he met to come up and spend a few weeks with him at his summer home in New Hampshire.

One night Hoyt, Bert Dasher, W. B.
Currie, Frank McKee and several other house guests of Hoyt were sitting on the veranda of Hoyt's summer house waiting for dinner. The train had just arrived, and they saw an old farmer and his wife coming up the path.

"Who are they?" asked Hoyt. "I never saw them before."

"The dickens you didn't," replied Currie. "That is that old chap and his wife you talked to over at Springfield and invited to visit you."

"Oh, well," said Hoyt, "maybe they are just coming in to dinner. They will take the night train back."

Then he looked again and saw the old man behind the farmer and his wife wheeling a big trunk on a wheel-barrow.

"No, by George," shouted Hoyt, "they are here for a run!"

And they stayed a month.—Cleveland Leader.

A Closed Discussion.

They had argued long and furiously
over the question, "Can a man marry his widow's niece?" and the highly talented lawyer in the corner had waxed eloquent over the marriage laws of every state in the Union, every country in the world, civilized and uncivilized, and had cited the affinity tables of every church and even the legislation of Lycurgus down to that of Brigham Young, when a young man quietly announced his intense desire to be informed where the deuce a man was when his wife was a widow?

Then the discussion closed down and fourteen excited controversialists ordered iced water.—New York Times.

A Fair Sized Trout.

The gentleman was strolling across a large estate when he came upon a man fishing. "What sort of fish do you catch here?" he said.

"Mostly trout," replied the man.

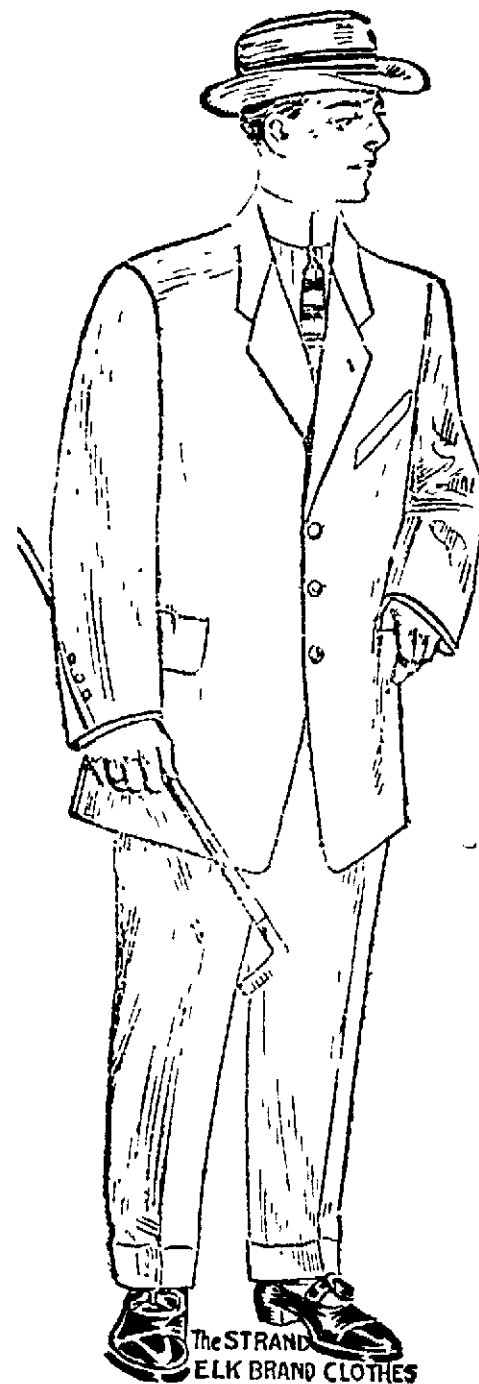

"How many have you caught?"

"About ten or twelve, sir."

"What is about the heaviest you have caught?" continued the gentleman.

"Well, I don't know the weight, but the water sunk two or three feet when I pulled it out!"

HOW I WAS CURED OF SCROFULA

"I was in a very bad condition with scrofulous swellings, round my neck. It started with a bunch on the side of my neck and it kept growing until the whole side of my face was swollen.

"I had tried everything in the shape of medicines for five years. I had gone under an operation in one of the hospitals in Boston and had them cut out. I had thirty little tubular glands taken from back of my ear down my shoulder. After the cuts healed over they started to come again and worse than before.

"After suffering so much I thought I would try Pinkham's Blood Purifier and before I had taken two bottles there was a great change in the swellings. I continued its use and to-day I am a well woman Every word of this is true.

"I cannot speak too highly in praise of Pinkham's Blood Purifier." —Mrs. W. H. HAYNES, 38 Adams Avenue, Everett, Mass.

The tendency to Scrofula seems to be hereditary and it is hard to overcome. It may lie dormant for years, and then break out anew from time to time.

The only known remedy for Scrofula is to keep the blood pure and rich by the use of a good blood purifier. It may require long treatment, but Mrs. Haynes found that Pinkham's Blood Purifier cured her of this dreadful disease, after all other means had failed.

Pinkham's Blood Purifier is equally as good for all diseases emanating from impure, impoverished blood, and is the best Spring medicine known. People will find the Blood Purifier just as reliable a remedy as the women of the world have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Unequalled—satisfying and dependable.

FEENEY FIGHTS TO HAVE MINE BILL ACTED UPON

No "Steam Rolling" of
His Measure If He
Can Prevent

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS

Harrisburg Busy Place Now
As Legislature Gets Down
To Grind

(Special Correspondence)

Harrisburg, April 13—By being insistent and standing his ground Representative Feeney of Charleroi refused to be "steam rolled" in the House mines committee at Harrisburg Tuesday. Not only did he block delay in the consideration of the mine code, which is generally opposed by the miners but he got one of his mining bills reported out which seemed to be in danger of suffocation.

When Chairman Richards of the mining committee proposed to adjourn the hearing on the code until next Tuesday Feeney objected. This would also delay action on Mr. Feeney's mine certificate bill, and the latter was particularly anxious to get the bill reported out. He was so insistent that the chairman delegated Assemblyman Knight as chairman pro tem to consider the bill, and it was reported out. Had Mr. Feeney consented to be "steam rolled," his bill might have remained buried.

The Sproul road bill with its $5,000,000 appropriation for good roads for the next two years and its measure to fix up about roads all over the state, was passed finally in the Senate and sent to the House.

Great importance is attached to the Shern bill, providing a method for the impeachment of judges, which passed finally in the House by a vote of 112 to 76. There is no doubt but what it will have easy sailing in the Senate. It provides that 100 or more qualified electors of any judicial district in the State may institute impeachment proceedings against any Judge, guilty of "any immoral or dishonest conduct, or who has in any way violated his oath of office or has been guilty of conduct unbecoming a Judge."

William G. Theurer of Washington has been appointed assistant general agent of the state board of charities for the western district, vice Robert W. Herbert, of Greensburg, resigned.

Assemblyman Bentley got quick action yesterday on a bill regulating vehicle traffic on public highway. He introduced it in the morning and two hours later it was reported from committee. The bill provides that all vehicles must "keep to the right" in meeting another, and applies to all vehicles or led or driven animals. It also provides that where the width and condition of the streets or highways permit slower moving vehicles shall keep to the right of the center of such street or highway.

The bill likewise compels front and rear lights upon every vehicle upon the public highways during darkness, whether moving or standing, such lights to be visible for at least 100 feet.

WORK IN THE SCHOOLS

At the meeting of the school board in adjourned session last night, the secretary was instructed to notify Tax Collector J. W. Mathias that he must have his exonerations list for 1909 taxes in by May 4, and his exonerations list for 1910 taxes in by June 1. Members of the board discussed different matters in regard to the schools. At the next meeting, which will be on May 4, a superintendent for the following three years is to be elected.

Prof. James G. Pentz, the present incumbent who has held the position for two years will be an applicant for re-election, and the sentiment is said to be in his favor. Prof. Pentz has wrought innovations in the schools that has brought them up to their present high standard and his work has at all times been to the best interests of the schools.

HICKMAN REPLACED IN JAIL WITH DEATH WATCH TO GUARD HIM

Wife Murderer's Freedom of Brief Duration--
Says He Will Not Be Hung
For His Crime

After less than 12 hours of freedom, Charles Hickman, the Beaver county murderer, who escaped yesterday morning for the second time within a few months, was recaptured, and he is now back in the Beaver county jail, with a death watch guarding his door. He repeated his intention after being taken back to the sheriff's office that if possible he would escape again. "At last," he declared, "they will never hang me."

It was the intention of Hickman to go down the Ohio river after hiding some time in a wild section of Beaver county, where he hoped he would be immune from capture. Confusion as to direction, which led him to inquire of County Commissioner Ewing led to his re-incarceration.

This happened as Hickman was passing along the road from Shippingport to Hookstown, and County Commissioner Ewing recognized the man at once and notified County Detective D. C. Braden and Sheriff John Hartzel.

County Detective Braden and Deputy Sheriff Wallover made the capture. They went to Shippingport in company with Sheriff Hartzel and Policeman D. Copeland of Beaver. Braden and Wallover drove in a buggy on the road between the two places and a short distance from town met Hickman walking along. When they approached and he saw who it was he made no resistance.

When taken back to the sheriff's office he told the story of his escape and of how five weeks before he had sawed the bars and had waited for a chance to get away. He made his way through the sheriff's office and the basement of the sheriff's living quarters to freedom.

VANDALS AT WORK

Loose Halters of Cows
and Slashes One with Knife

POLICE ARE NOTIFIED

Andy Kolkabage, who conducts a small dairy on the outskirts of the southern part of town, was yesterday made the victim of maliciousness, which resulted in the loss of one of his most valuable cows. During his absence from his dairy barn some one entered the place and severed the halters of all the cows.

Not satisfied with loosing the cows from their stalls, the vandals slashed one of the cows with a knife so that it had to be killed. All were recovered.

Kolkabage was informed by one of his countrymen that for $1 he would tell him who committed the deed. Kolkabage notified the police who told him to hunt up the man and he would be given the dollar. Kolkabage is still searching for him.

SPECIAL VISITING DAY OBSERVANCE AT TWO SCHOOLS

Many Persons View Work
Done by Pupils at Buildings No. 2 and 3

Visitors to the Ninth and Second street schools yesterday had the opportunity of witnessing the pupils at work, pursuing the regular school routine. The day was the second of two special visiting days. Only in one grade taught by Mrs. Dolly Jeffries at the Second street school, was there anything but the usual teaching and recitations. In this room there was a literary program rendered by the literary society.

Both the school buildings were highly decorated in seasonable colors, and strung along the walls and blackboards were the displays of work, showing an astonishing degree of skill in the drawing and written work.

It is estimated that about 250 persons registered at both schools. Owing to the bad weather of yesterday the displays and decorations are being left untouched, so that they may be viewed this afternoon by those who did not get to the schools yesterday.

Tomorrow the Charleroi schools will be closed entirely, owing to it being Good Friday.

Good Roads Coming

The passage of the Sprout road bill through the Senate yesterday is a favorable indication that the measure stands a good chance of success in becoming a law. This bill provides for an appropriation of $6,000,000 for the purpose of improving some 300 roads in the State during the next two years, and is a big start pending the proposed measure to amend the constitution for the privilege of issuing $50,000,000 in bonds for a more comprehensive road system.

State aid for road improvement is now a well defined issue, and is encountering little opposition. It has taken the people a long time to realize that State funds cannot be employed to better advantage than in the improvement of the roads, yet the people were strangely indifferent to this matter. Now that a start is made it is not likely to end until the whole State is covered with a network of improved roads which will be maintained at the expense of the Commonwealth. A new era in material advancement is in prospect for the State by reason of road improvement.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

The trouble with most people is that they are too prone to get tired doing good.

With new coal mines starting up there is at least a good indication that business will not be dull the coming summer.

Then man Hickman seems to be the star jail breaker of the United States.

Circumstantial evidence has lost many a good man his job.

The special Parents day in the schools was a somewhat classy event.

Some people say they do not care what the Colonel calls them. But that's because they are not close enough to hear.

There is some wonder as to whether Champ Clark will use the same methods for compelling attention and obedience that Uncle Joe did.

According to statistics divorce is increasing nearly three times as rapidly as the population. And that's going some.

Most people living outside of Pittsburgh are willing that that town be used as an experiment for the commission form of government.

With Assemblymen having to pay for feed, board and the like, it's not much wonder that the glory of being Legislator for so long a stretch palls on them.

J. Pierpont Morgan has been suggested for the Presidency of the United States. Not while Col. Roosevelt is handy.

The price of tickets to hear one concert by the Metropolitan Opera company at New York has been raised from $5 to 6. They don't any more than get one crimp put in the high cost of living until somebody gives it another boost.

The Spanish town that set up a republic for itself must have heard of the American commission form of government.

Adolph Beigel

Remick and Co. have had as many as six of these songs selling at one time.

This is a remarkable record, but to have one writer furnish four of them seems almost a miracle. Percy Wenrich, one of the youngest song writers, has again demonstrated his ability to strike the popular fancy by his latest, "We've Kept The Golden Rule."

Founded, as it is upon the oldest and greatest principle of moral philosophy, the lyric goes as straight to the hearts of the music-loving multitude as does the tuneful melody. A sentiment similar to that of "Old Grey Bonnet" pervades this song, and young and old will benefit by its moral.

When songs like "We've Kept The Golden Rule," become popular, the world is getting better.

CHORUS.

When we were playmates together, In all sorts of weather, I would whistle for you as we trot along to school. Through the green fields we'd ramble, And watch the lambs at gambol

And we've always kept the Golden Rule.

Executive Controller Samuel C. Todd was in town from Harrisburg a few days this week looking after some private business matters says that Governor John K. Tener, is winning the confidence and esteem of all who are in any way connected in official circles.

"One thing that surprised every one was Mr. Tener's comprehensive grasp of affairs and conditions in all of the departments," said Mr. Todd.

"He has gone right to the bottom of things, and by a series of questions and explanations has familiarized himself with the subject in hand. This was a surprise to the most of the head officials, who have been accustomed to see the different executives depend upon the heads of the various departments for information and action. Governor Tener, however, gets this information himself, and his grasp of affairs in the short time he has been in office has won for him increased respect on the part of officials and subordinates."

HUMOROUS QUIPS

The Crossed Fingers.

He swore that her kiss was the first he had had.
But his fingers were crossed.
He'd kissed but his mother when he was a lad—
Yes, his fingers were crossed.
He vowed that not only he'd never had a taste
Of quivering lips, but that no other waist
Had ever been clasped by his arm. Then
In haste
His two fingers he crossed.
The sparkler he gave her he'd purchased that day.
But his fingers were crossed.
No previous maiden had worn it—nay, nay!
But his fingers were crossed.
And never, so long as his life should endure,
Would eye, cheek or lip of another maid
Knew it—past every doubt he was sure—
But his fingers were crossed.
She listened to all of the stuff he had said
While his fingers were crossed.
She laid on his bosom her wise little head
While his fingers were crossed.
She answered so low that the famed "little bird"
But his fingers were crossed.
Who peddles sweet secrets could scarcely have heard
As she breathed "Oh my love, I believe every word."
But her fingers were crossed.
—Strickland Gillman in Puck.

Doing His Share.

"I suppose," said the heiress' father, "you have assured my daughter that you will grant her every wish."
"No," replied Baron Fucash; "I will not misrepresent my financial resources. But I will do my best to be of service."
"In what way?"
"I will help her to wish."—Washington Star.

Undoubtedly True.

"Anyway," said the man who was getting the worst of the argument, "there's one thing no woman has ever done and probably never will do."
"What is that?" queried the fair surfragette.
"Spoil anything through silence," answered the mere man as he hurried away.—Chicago News.

Arranged.

Mrs. Desmythe—Yes, my dear, I intend my daughters to be engaged when they are nineteen.
Mrs. Lajones—But suppose they are not?
Mrs. Desmythe—Then they remain nineteen until they are!—Philadelphia Times.

Each in Its Place.

Tommy—Is there any difference, pa, between a violin and a fiddle?
Pa—Indeed there is, my son. The instrument you heard at that concert last month was a violin; the thing Mr. Nerdore plays is a fiddle.—Catholic Standard and Times.

More So.

Kicker—There is nothing that makes a woman so happy as to get a four dollar hat for three eighty-five.
Snicker—Oh, yes, there is!
Kicker—What?
Snicker—To get an eight dollar hat for seven eighty-nine.—Puck.

And Bonds.

Passenger With the Skullcap—Do you take any stock in these woman suffragists?
Passenger With the Red Necktie—Yes, sir; preferred stock. I'm married to one of them. Any objections?—Chicago Tribune.

The Modern Way.

"I began at the bottom and worked up," said the man.
"An old fashioned method," retorted the other. "Nowadays we begin at the top and make good afterward if we can."—Detroit Free Press.

When Women Rule.

"That lady judge has decided against us."
"That's all right," said the feminine attorney. "I know her. By tomorrow she'll change her mind."—Kansas City Journal.

Veiled Warning.

Ardent Lover—Sir, I came to ask you to give me your daughter's hand.
Fond Papa—With pleasure. If you are looking for it you will find it generally in my pocket.—Baltimore American.

How Rumors Start.

"What's this about sewing your unfortunate wives in sacks?"
"Nothing to it," replied the sultan emphatically. "I did get 'em some hobble skirts."—Pittsburg Post.

Adamant.

"There are a lot of girls who don't ever intend to get married."
"How do you know?"
"I've proposed to several."—Cleveland Leader.

The Humorist's Friend.

"What is the object of the Press Humorists' association?"
"To erect a monument to Maud Muller. I believe."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Practical Hubby.

Mrs. Benham—The lecture was so uplifting.
Benham—What was it about—an elevator or an airship?—New York Press.

No Trouble at All.

"Do you have any trouble in getting a maid?"
"Oh, no! I got ten last month."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Hoyt's Hospitality.

It was the habit of Charles H. Hoyt, the dramatist, to invite almost everybody he met to come up and spend a few weeks with him at his summer home in New Hampshire.

One night Hoyt, Bert Dasher, W. E. Currie, Frank McKee and several other house guests of Hoyt were sitting on the veranda of Hoyt's summer house waiting for dinner. The train had just arrived, and they saw an old farmer and his wife coming up the path.

"Who are they?" asked Hoyt. "I never saw them before."
"The dickens you didn't," replied Currie. "That is that old chap and his wife you talked to over at Springfield and invited to visit you."

"Oh, well," said Hoyt, "maybe they are just coming in to dinner. They will take the night train back."

Then he looked again and saw the old man behind the farmer and his wife wheeling a big trunk on a wheelbarrow.

"No, by George," shouted Hoyt, "they are here for a run!"

And they stayed a month.—Cleveland Leader.

A Closed Discussion.

They had argued long and furiously over the question, "Can a man marry his widow's niece?" and the highly talented lawyer in the corner had waxed eloquent over the marriage laws of every state in the Union, every country in the world, civilized and uncivilized, and had cited the affinity tables of every church and even the legislation of Lycurgus down to that of Brigham Young, when a young man quietly announced his intense desire to be informed where the deuce a man was when his wife was a widow?

Then the discussion closed down and fourteen excited controvertists orderediced water.—New York Times.

A Fair Sized Trout.

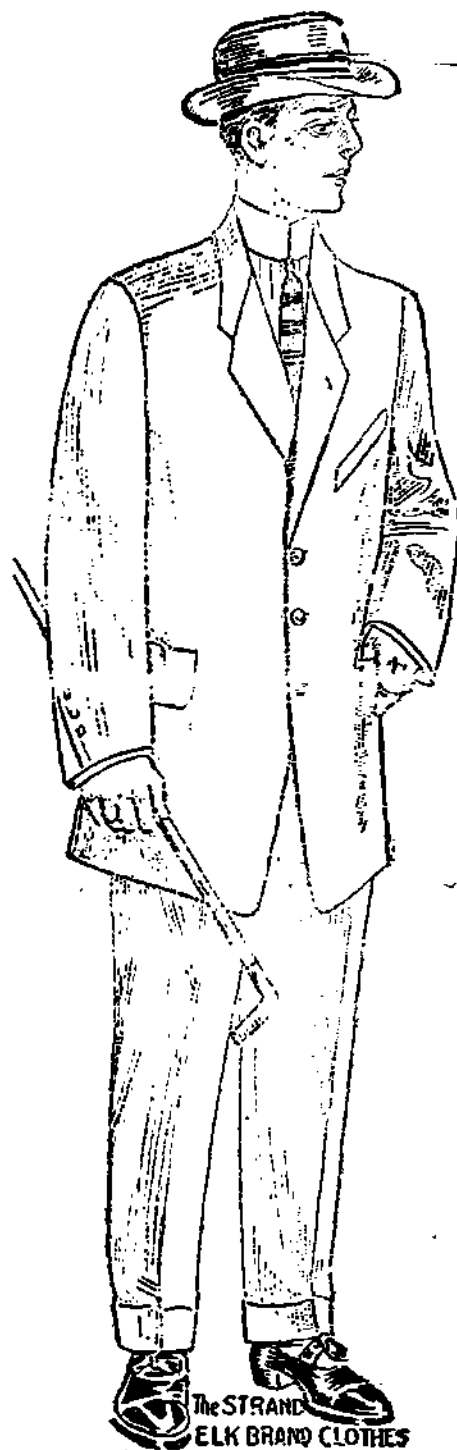

The gentleman was strolling across a large estate when he came upon a man fishing. "What sort of fish do you catch here?" he said.

"Mostly trout," replied the man. "How many have you caught?"
"About ten or twelve, sir."

"What is about the heaviest you have caught?" continued the gentleman.

"Well, I don't know the weight, but the water sunk two or three feet when I pulled it out!"

HOW I WAS CURED OF SCROFULA

"I was in a very bad condition with scrofulous swellings round my neck. It started with a bunch on the side of my neck and it kept growing until the whole side of my face was swollen.

"I had tried everything in the shape of medicines for five years. I had gone under an operation in one of the hospitals in Boston and had them cut out. I had thirty little tubular glands taken from back of my ear down my shoulder. After the cuts healed over they started to come again and worse than before.

"After suffering so much I thought I would try Pinkham's Blood Purifier and before I had taken two bottles there was a great change in the swellings. I continued its use and to-day I am a well woman Every word of this is true.

"I cannot speak too highly in praise of Pinkham's Blood Purifier." —Mrs. W. H. Haynes, 38 Adams Avenue, Everett, Mass.

The tendency to Scrofula seems to be hereditary and it is hard to overcome. It may lie dormant for years, and then break out anew from time to time.

The only known remedy for Scrofula is to keep the blood pure and rich by the use of a good blood purifier. It may require long treatment, but Mrs. Haynes found that Pinkham's Blood Purifier cured her of this dreadful disease, after all other means had failed.

Pinkham's Blood Purifier is equally as good for all diseases emanating from impure, impoverished blood, and is the best Spring medicine known. People will find the Blood Purifier just as reliable a remedy as the women of the world have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Unequalled—satisfying and dependable.
